All Saints Day — Holy Day of Obligation

November 1 is the celebration of All Saints Day. It is a celebration of all the souls in heaven—those recognized through canonization but also all those unknown souls who are enjoying the beatific vision — that is “contemplating God directly in his heavenly glory” (CCC #1028). It is a time of great hope, knowing that this is what we are called to and which we can achieve with the help of God’s grace.

We will grow to fully appreciate that, as Jesu hung dying on the cross, He gave His Mother to each of us. This book will strengthened our love for Mary by explaining in great detail exactly who she is and why making her a part of our live is so important. Books will be available the first meeting. The cost of the book is $4.10. If you can not attend the first meeting books will available at each meeting.

Catholic-Lutheran Prayer Service

The Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity and the Lutheran World Federation have prepared a joint prayer service to be used this year to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the Reformation. This includes recognition of what we have in common and where we are not yet united. Zion Lutheran has invited Our Lady of the Valley to join in prayer on Sunday, November 12, at 3 pm at their Church. Refreshments to follow. Please make time for this important ecumenical witness. Remember, "They will know we are Christians by our love." Parish participation has been approved by the Bishop.

Excerpts From Conflict to Communion: Lutheran-Catholic Common Commemoration of the Reformation

By the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity and the Lutheran World Federation

In 2017, Catholic and Lutheran Christians will most fittingly look back on events that occurred 500 years earlier by putting the gospel of Jesus Christ at the center. The gospel should be celebrated and communicated to the people of our time so that the world may believe that God gives Godself to human beings and calls us into communion with Godself and God's church. Herein lies the basis for our joy in our common faith.

Five Ecumenical Imperatives

238. Catholics and Lutherans realize that they and the communities in which they live out their faith belong to the one body of Christ.

The first imperative: Catholics and Lutherans should always begin from the perspective of unity and not from the point of view of division in order to strengthen what is held in common even though the differences are more easily seen and experienced.

The second imperative: Lutherans and Catholics must let themselves continuously be transformed by the encounter with the other and by the mutual witness of faith.

The third imperative: Catholics and Lutherans should again commit themselves to seek visible unity, to elaborate together what this means in concrete steps, and to strive repeatedly toward this goal.

The fourth imperative: Lutherans and Catholics should jointly rediscover the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ for our time.

The fifth imperative: Catholics and Lutherans should witness together to the mercy of God in proclamation and service to the world.

245. ... the Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification describes: "Lutherans and Catholics share the goal of confessing Christ in all things, who alone is to be trusted above all things as the one Mediator (1 Tim. 2:5f) through whom God in the Holy Spirit gives himself and pours out his renewing gifts" (JDDJ 18).

Get FORMED — The Reformation and more

FORMED.org lists a number of resources to reflect on the Reformation. Audios include "Understanding Luther" to another audio "Heroes of the Catholic Reformation." "Reformation" is available as a video, and "Characters of the Reformation" is a downloadable book. Take time to understand the factors that contributed to the Reformation as well as to reflect on those saints who furthered the Catholic Counter Reformation. St. Francis de Sales, patron of this diocese, was one such defender of the faith. As bishop of Geneva he was dedicated to working with Calvinists and helping them find their way back to the Catholic faith. In one of the tracts he wrote, he said, "I well know, thank God, that Tradition was before all Scripture, since a good part of Scripture itself is only Tradition reduced to writing, with an infallible assistance of the Holy Spirit. But, since the authority of Scripture is more easily received by the reformers than that of Tradition." This is a good reminder to all of us as we work for Christian unity.

See the FORMED flyer with the liturgical calendar for suggestions on content to correspond with the celebration of saints throughout the month.
